ORDERS ARE GIVEN FOR MOBILIZATION OF ARMY AT BELGRADE

King, Court and Garrison Leave Capital; Austria-Hungary Declares Reply of Serbs Is Unsatisfactory

VIENNA, July 25.—A message from Belgrade says that orders for the mobilization of the Serbian army were given at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The King of Serbia with his court and the garrison are leaving the Serbian capital.

Shortly before 6 o'clock the Austro-Hungarian minister at Belgrade presented a note to the Serbian foreign office saying the Serbian reply was unsatisfactory. The Austro-Hungarian minister and the staff of the legation then left Belgrade.

The Austro-Hungarian government refused all the requests of Serbia to extend the time limit for the reply to its note.

The Serbian government is to be conducted from Kraguyevatz, where there is an arsenal and an arms and ammunition factory.

PARTIAL ACCEPTANCE.

LONDON, July 25.—Serbia's reply to Austria will be a partial acceptance of her demands, according to advices reaching official circles in London today.

Serbia will grant the demands in reference to the punishment of those concerned in the assassination at Sarajevo of the heir to the Austrian throne and will consent to do everything in connection with that matter which a civilized state can do without permitting an infringement of its sovereignty.

As to the demands of Austria, Serbia contends that she is unable to reply to them on such short notice, as she has not had sufficient time to consider them.

Mme. Caillaux Collapses on Hearing Love Letters
Read.

BURNING WORDS WRIT BY CAILLAUX

My Dear Little Riri—When I met thee I felt the impulse of all my being toward thee with a furious passion. With splendid courage thou hast reconquered thy liberty, asking of me but one promise—to give thee my love. There was between another person and myself such a difference of character. We have everything to fear from a woman's duty.

Beloved Little Riri—At last I have a minute to write thee. Thou must be very reasonable and stay at Dijon for the present. I fear only one thing—blackmail. Perhaps some one will make a scandal. Sometimes I am very discouraged. What a life! I have but one consolation—thee. . . . A thousand million kisses all over your adorable little body. From the love letters of M. Caillaux to the present Mme. Caillaux before his divorce from Mme. Gueydan.

PARIS, July 25.—The chief judge challenging one of his colleagues to a duel, the reading of the "mysterious" letters which were supposed to affect the case so profoundly, and the physical collapse of Mme. Caillaux, were three incidents which today stirred the emotions in connection with the trial of Madame Caillaux for the murder of Gaston Calmette.

A peculiarly French atmosphere was lent to the affair by the quarrel of the judges. This was added to by

RUSSIA MAY MOBILIZE.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 25.—Orders for the prompt mobilization of the Russian army were looked for as a result of the calling of the council of ministers, presided over by the emperor of Russia and held at the palace of Peterhof early today.

From present indications Russia appears prepared to go to any extremes rather than tolerate the downfall of Serbia.

The mobilization of the Russian army today demands the immediate mobilization of the Russian army on the Austrian frontier. The Bourse Gazette declares that Russia "cannot for a moment tolerate any attack on Serbia or on Serbian independence."

EUROPE IS STIRRED.

LONDON, July 25.—The Austro-Serbian imbroglio occupied today the attention of every chancery in Europe, where the situation was recognized as fraught with possibilities of a general conflict.

The condition of the stock exchanges gave a strong indication of the fear and the general public and stocks of all kinds suffered a collapse.

The hope was widely expressed that armed contact between the nations would be averted, and the Russian view of the coercion exercised on a Slav nation was watched closely, as it was felt that on the decision of St. Petersburg as to whether Russia would actively support Serbia in resisting Austria's demands depended the final outcome of the controversy.

RUSSIA DEFIANT.

Already part of the Russian press has taken a defiant attitude, demanding that the government in St. Petersburg undertake the protection of Serbia. The Novoye Vremya says: "The Russian government clearly recognizes that the Austrian ultimatum is particularly directed against it, and Russia is replying not only by words but by the requisite actions."

"Serbia is being subjected to an unlawful attack and will not remain alone. The disturbers of the peace have not to deal with Serbia only, but also with Russia. Unless the Austrian ultimatum is withdrawn, Russia will

REPUBLICANS ARE NOW LEADING PROGRESSIVES

Registrations of Discharged Deputies Held for Weeks Thrown at County Clerk Today

Gross Fraud of Progressive Politicians in Holding Back Registrations So They Could Not Be Investigated

Republican registration, pouring into the County Clerk's office last night and this morning, reduced the Progressive lead at 11:30 this morning to nearly even with the Republicans, despite the fact that two batches of Progressive registrations, held back for weeks, were dropped into the office at the last moment by Progressive leaders.

In this bundle of old registrations were many voters registered by H. Kronick, one of the deputies dismissed by County Clerk John P. Cook during his investigation of the fraudulent Progressive registration. They were dated about July 11. This means that many of his registrations were not investigated and no time remains for investigating such registrations now. The County Clerk's office regards this as a fraud of the Progressive leaders, sending in the last of their clerk's registration too late for it to go under the probe that exposed the first of it. What action will be taken on this latest move cannot be decided by the clerk at the present moment, but in the meantime it means that many so-called Progressives that were counted in this morning are Republicans and will be defrauded out of their vote.

Big crowds stood in line all morning in the County Clerk's office, in one of the heaviest registration days in the history of the county. Registrations coming over the counter this morning averaged three Republicans to one Progressive.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the count shows the Republicans 250 in the lead over the Progressives.

Alleges Fraud in

Mrs. Eugenie Susan Curnow Boselly, widow of the late Frederick James Boselly, at one time president of the Royal Baking Powder Company, who resides at the Hotel Oakland, will have to battle for her share of her husband's estate as the result of an action commenced in San Francisco this morning by Boselly's first wife, Mrs. Margaret Boselly of Chicago.

A suit filed in San Francisco today by Attorney Henry Ach and J. Delmor Littman in behalf of the first Mrs. Boselly charges that fraud and deceit were practiced in connection with the getting of a divorce in 1907 by the baking powder magnate, who died in San Francisco in February of this year.

Mrs. Boselly No. 1 declares that in 1907 she went East at the instance of her spouse, who urged that she take a vacation, and visit her mother in Chicago. She says that, taking advantage of her absence, Boselly filed suit for divorce, and that she was never served with the summons by Boselly's lawyers, although she claims her husband very well knew where she could be found.

Kleinschmidt Appeals Berkeley Police Suit

Notice of appeal was filed in the superior court today by Harry Kleinschmidt of Berkeley, demanding a third trial of his suit for $50,000 against Chief of Police August Vollmer.

Kleinschmidt, in his notice, declares that he has new evidence that may cast an entirely different light on the affair, and on this ground demands that his case be opened for another hearing.

Wedding Takes Place at Old
People's Home; Both From Same Province.

"Raus!" shouted Cupid to Age at the Altenheim yesterday—and Age obeyed orders. Cupid ruled at the German old people's home, and the inmates witnessed the culmination of a remarkable romance, when John H. Burchard, a retired farmer, aged 68, and Mrs. Emily Hornick, aged 70, were married by Rev. J. H. Theiss. Both are inmates of the home of the home and will continue to live there.

The romance began about a year ago, when the old people discovered that they both came from the same province in Germany, years ago. They remembered village fetes they attended together. They remembered many mutual friends. From that time, say other inmates of the home, their path led in a straight line to the altar, and yesterday's ceremony has been expected for some time past.

"Age?" What's that got to do with it?" asked the bridegroom, when he obtained his license at the courthouse. The bride says the same. The couple are among the most popular people at the Altenheim, where they are leaders in many of the amusements arranged by the inmates.

Mediation Fails in Impending R. R. Strike

CHICAGO, July 25.—Mediation has failed to settle the wage differences between the ninety-eight western railroads and their 55,000 engineers.

After a week of sessions, the federal board of mediation and conciliation today announced that it was trying to effect a working basis by which both sides would consent to arbitrate their differences.

The announcement of the crisis in tors and the warring employees and employers was made by G. W. W. Hanger, member of the federal board of mediation and conciliation, who said:

"It has been apparent for the last three or four days that the question could not be settled by mediation and the board therefore is trying to effect a working basis by which both sides will consent to arbitration."

Judge Performs Ceremony; the Family Appears Soon
Afterward.

Pursuing his daughter, and arriving fifteen minutes after Superior Judge T. W. Harris had married her to Albert C. Evans of San Francisco, Daniel McClelland has applied to Sheriff Barnett and Chief of Police Petersen to arrest the couple. Declaring that the girl is only 15 years of age, instead of 18, as declared in the marriage license affidavit, relatives of the girl today at noon crowded the county clerk's office, demanding warrants for the pair on charges of perjury. They declare that the man is 25 years instead of 21, as set forth in the marriage license. They have appealed to the police to get them back. Unable to secure a warrant, the courthouse and city hall being closed with the exception of the registration departments, they started in search of a judge. But the couple had left Oakland.

AN EARLY START.

Evans and Miss McClelland arrived from San Francisco shortly after 8 o'clock, and waited until 9 o'clock for the marriage license window to open. They then sought Justice of the Peace James G. Quinn, who was not in his office. Returning, they appealed to Judge T. W. Harris, who after much persuasion agreed to marry them. Harris asked them many questions and finally performed the ceremony with the newspaper men as witnesses. A few moments

REGISTER! LAST CHANCE OFFICE IS OPEN TONIGHT

There is a rush of final registrations today, which is the last day for enrollment of voters. Many have put off the matter until the final hours, and for the benefit of these the county clerk's office will be open until 10 o'clock this evening.

Ballot boxes and the Macdonough building, Fourteenth street and Broadway, will also be kept open tonight until 10 o'clock for the registration of members of that party.

Persons who have not registered since January 2d of this year will not be eligible to vote at the primaries next month unless enrolled on the Great Register before registration ends tonight.

The Meddler

MIDSUMMER phases of life at the American country resorts are always of interest, and one of the phases of this life concerns itself with absence of the American man. It is specially noticeable in the middle of the week, when quiet settles over inland and seashore. "Does the American man never take a vacation?" asks the foreigner. The latter is not mistaken, for it is often vacation just to take the children away and give him a rest.

One of the successful writers of fiction has been making a motor trip through Switzerland, and she reports to the husband problem as it concerns vacation. In speaking of a husband in the Tyrol she writes:

"But those who entered the dining room had the New Jersey hotel man which is gained only by a weekly vacation. There the similarity ended. To sure, husband and wife came together, and the tables bowed to each other. Yet the enjoyment, while mild, was not gay; the attitude of wives towards their husbands had that conscious Sunday dinner quality which we possess. There was desire among the women to show their trophies; no hint in the air of this is he of whom I have been telling you through the week."

"One could not blame them for their moderation. The husbands were too much to look at, but the cause of this languid acceptance of the presence of their lords was explained by maitre d'hotel. It seems there are no holidays for wives without husbands among the Teutons. They come together and they go together; there is no thrilling expectancy late in the afternoon, or muddled tempestuous partings early Monday morning."

It might be said that American wives are very generous in the matter of vacation. There is nothing the American man dislikes more than to dress three times a day and to sit around on verandas trying to make himself agreeable to people he does not care a straw about and whom he will eventually hate if he is compelled to be "polite" to them. The American has developed a great love for out-of-door sports. He learned it in his grammar and high school days, and he carried that love into the heart of his college years. The wilderness calls to him. The rippling brook murmurs its message:

The music of whose liquid lip will mean to him companionship.

A deer hunt is the joy of his life, not because he really wants to kill a deer, but for the wide solitude which is its environment. When he announces that he is going on a deer hunt, he is the envy of every man within sound of his voice. For he couldn't keep a certain thrill of pride out of it if he tried. "This is the life" one can hear him say as he surveys a lodge in the wilderness. So the man of today when he takes a vacation goes on a long hunting trip, or a fishing trip, or he camps in the high Sierras, or he walks from Hetch-Hetchy to Tahoe, or he cruises on the coast in a sailing vessel; and if the women of the family are bound to worry, they say very little to him about it.

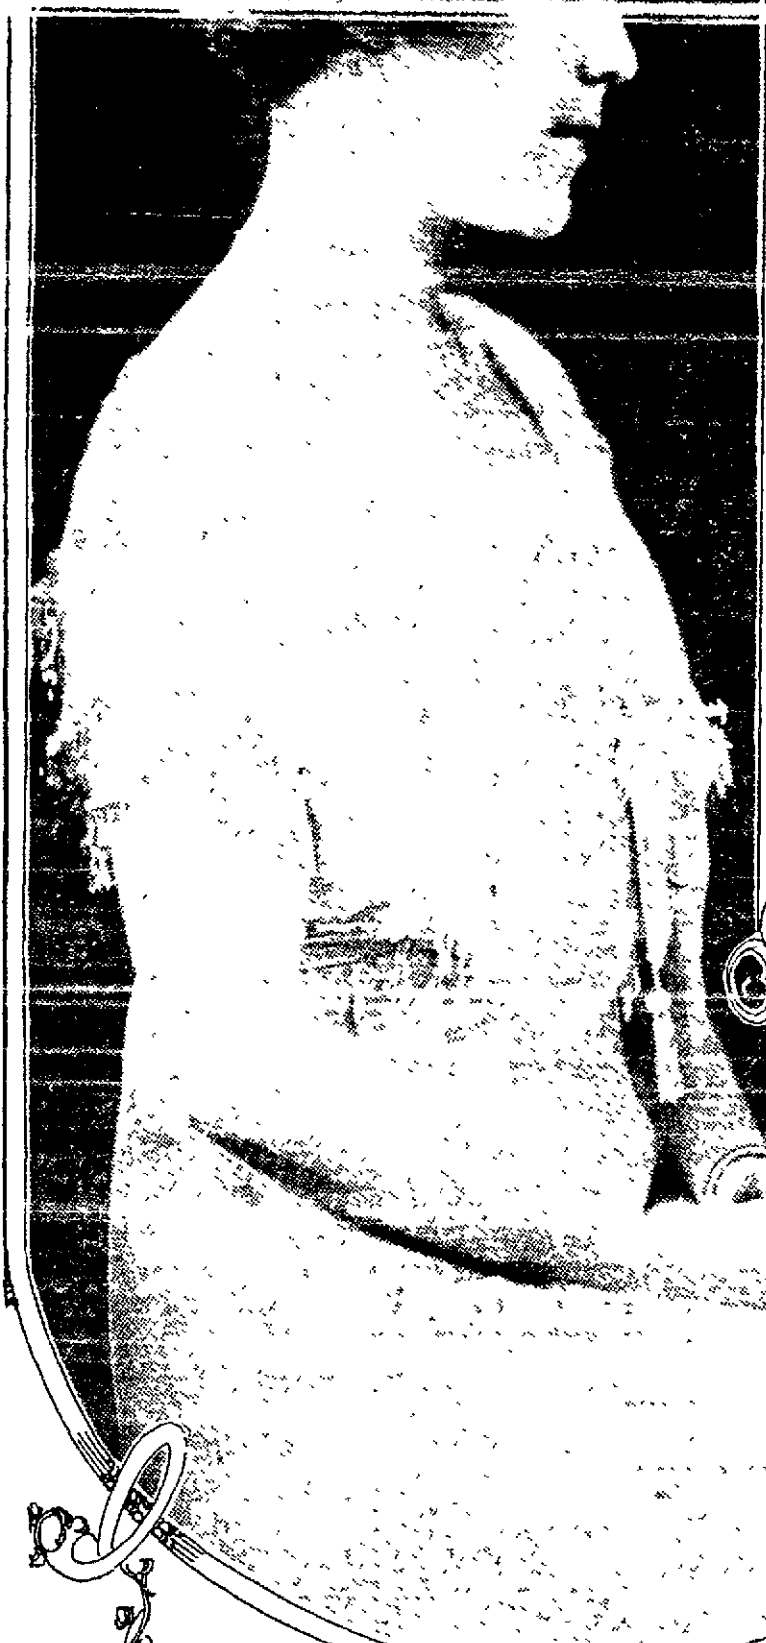

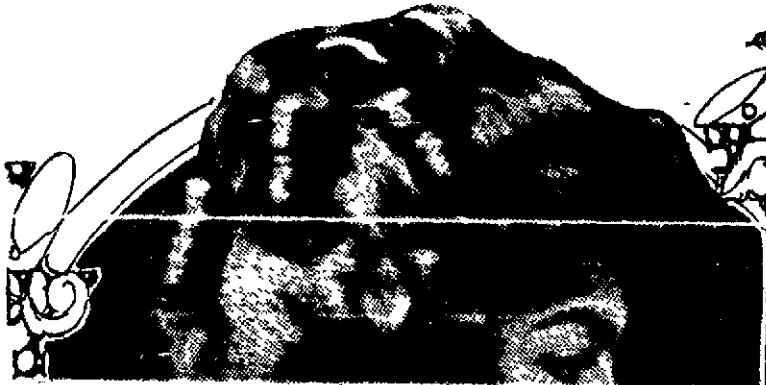

If a man goes to one of the summer resorts, it is mostly for its golf links, for its tennis, or for its polo. Or perhaps it is a good starting place for many motor trips. And here again women are very brave. The Californian will drive his motor car over roads that were formerly wood roads and are little more than wood trails. But if he is going to have a vacation, it must have adventure in it or it will not represent a good time. So the phases of a California holiday time have many things in them original and worthy of consideration by the rest of the world.

WOMEN OF FAIR BOARD HONOR NOTED VISITORS.

Social life weaves itself into many kinds of activities. It is not of itself a thing apart. One finds it in the heart of all the plans for the Panama-Pacific exposition, and in the political developments of the day where women are concerned. It used to be the same when women's activities were concerned so largely with charities and philanthropies, and the "charity balls" of other days were truly brilliant affairs.

The largest social date of the week was the luncheon given at the Fairmont Hotel by the women of the Panama-Pacific board, who made guests of honor Mrs. Glynn and Mrs. William Randolph Hearst. Mrs. Glynn is here with the governor of the state of New York's share in the exposition, and Mrs. William Randolph Hearst is one of the exposition commissioners from that state.

The plans for the new York building are quite wonderful, and Mrs. Hearst and Mrs. Glynn have been working hard to bring them to the women here. The building is to cost $200,000 and will be four stories high, with twelve rooms for servants. Twenty rooms for the state commissioners, a suite of rooms for the governor, a meeting room for the board, an oval reception room for women on the second floor and eighteen private baths. The ceiling of the ballroom will cost $10,000, and the room is 54x76 feet, with a balcony on two sides. On the first floor there is a music room, a ladies' reception room and men's reception and writing rooms. And the women from New York announce with the greatest glee that one of the charms of the big building will be its perfectly appointed model kitchen.

The luncheon in honor of Mrs. William R. Hearst and Mrs. Glynn was served in the white and gold room of the Fairmont Hotel, and the room lends itself perfectly to a lovely decorative scene.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Lovell White, Mrs. I. Lowenberg, Mrs. Phoebe Hearst, Mrs. A. P. Black, Mrs. Hiram Johnson, and the honored guests, Mrs. Glynn and Mrs. William R. Hearst.

After the informal reception, luncheon, at which there were eighty guests, was served, Mrs. Lovell White presiding at the luncheon.

The tables were most charming studies in pink, a color scheme suiting admirably the white and gold of the big room. Luncheon was served at long tables on which were marble bowls, all filled with lovely gladioli in rare pink tones. In the center of each table was a great marble bowl on a very high marble pedestal.

Mrs. Hearst Sr. was seated beside Mrs. Lovell White, and Mrs. William Hearst was at the right of Mrs. C. C. Moore. Mrs. Hiram Johnson being on Mrs. Hearst's left. Mrs. Glynn was seated at Mrs. Moore's left.

Mrs. Ernest Simpson, in the absence of Mrs. Sanborn, gave greetings to the visitors on behalf of the board. Mrs. Lovell White, in her address, referred to her meeting of Governor Glynn at the waterways convention in New York, and she told how he won the admiration of everyone by his presentation and mastery of the subject.

Mrs. George Perry, as a New Yorker and an adopted Californian, spoke of the identity of interest and ideals which will exist when New York and San Francisco are on the same ocean, and this will be made possible by the canal.

Toasts to Mrs. William Hearst, Mrs. Phoebe Hearst, Mrs. Glynn and Mrs. Hiram Johnson were proposed, the ladies standing.

The costumes of many of the hostesses and guests were very appropriate and very artistic. Mrs. Phoebe Hearst was a charming study in gray satin, the costume completed by a bonnet in delicate lavender tones.

Mrs. Lovell White was beautifully gowned in black satin, the gown made in the new Russian style, and with it was worn a black hat with pink roses.

Mrs. A. P. Black, the San Francisco chairman, wore a gown of blue brocade crepe, with chiffon and lace waist, and a black hat.

Mrs. I. Lowenberg wore a handsome gown of black satin, most elaborately trimmed in lace, and a black lace hat completed one of the handsomest costumes of the day.

Mrs. William Hinckley Taylor wore a costume in black and white effects, and Miss Laura McKinstry was also gowned in black satin.

Mrs. A. C. Posey represented Alameda county, and she is one of the most popular chairmen in the state. She is able to make a most finished and cultured address, and Oakland is fortunate in having its representative able to take her place among the foremost women of the state. Mrs. Posey was most attractively gowned in black taffeta, the skirt elaborately ruffled, in the newest effects, and her becoming hat in tones of black and white completed a costume becoming and in great good taste.

The honored guests of the day were elaborately gowned. Mrs. William Hearst was gowned in blue taffeta. She wore one of the new sailor hats, in white, elaborately trimmed in white wings.

Mrs. Glynn's costume was in black and white, a Parisian gown, with a hat to match the gown.

Mrs. Hiram Johnson was gowned in black satin trimmed in jet, and her black hat was trimmed with black and white plumes.

Among the guests at the luncheon were: Mrs. M. H. de Young, Mrs. I. W. Hellman, Mrs. Lilienthal, Mrs. Eleanor Martin, Mrs. Louis Sloss, Mrs. Apple Cotton, Mrs. Guy Barham of Los Angeles, Mrs. Lane Leonard, Mrs. Dimond, Mrs. W. E. Dargie, Miss Dibblee of Santa Barbara, Mrs. Willis Polk, Mrs. Torchiana, wife of the consul of the Netherlands;

Japanese consul.

WOMEN FOUND ON POLITICAL FIRING LINE.

On political lines, too, one finds some of the most important social events of the midsummer. Mrs. Frederick Snook gave a very important reception at Berkeley, making her guest of honor Mrs. Joseph R. Knowland. Two hundred guests accepted her invitation, and the reception was given in her beautiful home on Hawthorne avenue and was in every way a great success. The hostess was assisted in receiving her guests by her daughter, Miss Mildred Snook, and by her niece, Miss Dorothy McBoyle. Miss Eleanor Knowland was also in the receiving party. Mrs. Snook and her daughter have just returned from Santa Barbara.

Miss Mildred Snook is attending the Fitch finishing school in New York and is home on her summer vacation.

Other guests are to be asked to meet them, and the luncheon will be one of the elaborate affairs of next week.

SUMMER WEDDINGS INTEREST SOCIETY.

The summer weddings this year bid fair to be of more than the usual degree of interest, since the brides are all so attractive, so popular, and come from such well-known families.

The wedding of Miss Barbara Bromwell and John Martin Jr. will take place on September 2 at the home of Mrs. Charles Tripler Hutchinson, who is a cousin of the bride-elect. An afternoon wedding has been planned, to take place at 4 o'clock, and the guest list will include relatives and friends from Oakland, San Francisco and Ross Valley.

Both families are exceedingly well known throughout the state. Mrs. Chris Jorgenson, the mother of the groom, was formerly Miss Angela Ghirardelli, of the well-known pioneer family of that name, and a number of her relatives are among Oakland's most prominent families.

The Jorgensons have for years made their home in Yosemite Valley, and Mr. Jorgenson's paintings of the great valley adorn many of the leading Eastern homes.

HE'S TEACHING DANCING TO ALL THE WORLD.

An enterprising young man from Louisville, Kentucky, started on a brave career last winter to teach dancing "to the smart sets of the world." He was successful, and he has wonderful stories to tell of what he calls "the feet frenzied aristocracy." Among other anecdotes is this.

"The Grand Duchess Anastasia of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, who is the mother of the Queen of Denmark and the Crown Princess of Germany, is known in her set as the Mother of Tango. Although she is no longer a young woman she is an enthusiastic tangoist—and a very graceful one.

"The Princess of Pless is also very fond of the new dances. At a dance on the Riviera she suggested that all her guests take off their shoes and tango in their stocking feet. Her suggestion proved so popular that at many of the dances all the younger set removed their shoes.

HERE IS SUMMER NEWS OF FRIENDS.

Almost every day brings interesting news of one's friends, and there never has been a summer in which people have had such enjoyable times. The P. E. Bowles have reached New York, and they were flavored with attar of wild roses. Ten dollars a dish is the usual price. Few order it.

Orchid ice is also a fad of the summer season. It is most expensive. A few drops of attar of orchids—each drop cost $3—is added to an ice that is made with a vanilla base. It not only gives the ice an exquisite perfume, but a decidedly pleasing and rarely encountered flavor.

VACATION NOTES OF SOCIETY FOLK.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Titus who have spent the month of July in New future.

Miss Edna Rooney who is a sister of Mrs. Louis Titus, spent two months in Washington, D. C., where there was much entertainment in her honor. Miss Rooney returned to California early in the week.

Prof. and Mrs. Charles Gayley left during the week for Europe, and they were joined at Detroit by their daughter, Miss Mary Gayley, who has been visiting friends in Mississippi. Miss Mary Gayley is to study art abroad, and she hopes to be joined soon by Miss Louise Janin. The latter is spending the summer in Monterey, studying with the famous artist, Mr. Chase of New York, who has a number of eastern students with him, and who is painting this summer at Carmel by the Sea.

It is a fine thing for the world, that the young girls of the smart set have learned the great lesson of life that to be busy and to be helpful, is the secret of true happiness.

THE MEDDLER.

Society

The gowns worn by the bride's attendants at the wedding of Miss Mary Titus and Ensign Daniel Callahan on Thursday evening, were especially pretty and the bridal party, with the ushers in their full dress navy uniforms, formed a charming picture in the church with the greenery and flowers for a background.

Miss Rose Marie Callahan, the maid of honor, caught the bride's bouquet when the young couple departed from the reception at the Hotel Oakland. She was a graceful, pretty figure in her gown of soft pink charmeuse, made with a delicate skirt. Beneath the overskirt was a deep fall of heavy cream toned lace that was drawn diagonally across the underdress. The bodice was of chiffon and lace, with silk and from the shoulders at the back fell a cape of the heavy tulle lace. The bridesmaid's veil of pink tulle lace was caught with pink roses at either side of the face. The bridesmaids, Miss Adele Lucke, Miss Margaret Durney, Miss Marguerite Sullivan, and Miss Aileen Rourke, were in gowns of pink tulle with Pierrot tunic edged with wide fluffy ruffles of silk, that stood out from the close-fitting underskirts. The bodices of the gowns were of silk and lace, drawn into rather wide aprons at the waist, and the veils were fastened with pink roses that also formed the shower bouquets.

Ensign Milton Anderson, who was best man, came up from San Diego with the groom, being one of the officers attached to the Truxton. The ushers, who included Ensign Schofield and Ensign Coleman, came from Mare Island for the wedding.

Ensign and Mrs. Callahan left yesterday for Castle Crag, where part of their honeymoon will be spent. Later they will go to San Diego, where the groom's ship, the Truxton, is anchored.

DINNER AT HOTEL OAKLAND.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bliss of San Francisco entertained half a dozen San Francisco friends informally at dinner at the Hotel Oakland on Thursday evening. Mr. Bliss, who designed the St. Francis, was also the architect of the Hotel Oakland. Mr. and Mrs. Will Bliss of Piedmont were also of the party. After dinner the visitors were taken over the hotel.

FOR MISS HEISEN.

Miss Ruth Heisen, whose wedding to Elmer Booth will take place in August, was guest of honor at a card party and shower this afternoon, at which Miss Helen Morrison was hostess at her home in Filbert street. The guests included members of a card club that has met every week during the past season. Among those present were Mrs. Ernest Brinkerhoff, Mrs. Hurd, Mrs. H. W. Foote, Mrs. Grace Cockrill, Mrs. John Gill, Miss Margaret Meek, Miss Charlotte Hurd, Miss Louise Cole, Miss Margaret Mitchell, Miss Florence Dean, Miss May Baudin, Miss Louise Lisbon, and Miss Elizabeth Morrison.

IN SOQUEL.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Callahan with Miss Rose Marie Callahan left for their summer home at Soquel yesterday, after having spent the week at their home in Fruitvale, where their son, Ensign Daniel Callahan, and Ensign Milton Anderson were guests until the Torrey-Callahan wedding on Thursday evening. They will remain until the last of August at the picturesque camp near Santa Cruz.

MRS. CARLISLE A HOSTESS.

Mrs. Burlington Carlisle has sent out invitations for a luncheon to be given next Wednesday at her home in Ridge road, in honor of Mrs. Charles Lee of Berkeley, who is spending the summer in San Francisco. Last Wednesday Mrs. Carlisle entertained eight guests at a luncheon for Mrs. Cook, wife of Major Cook of Imperial Valley, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Preston in San Francisco. The table decorations were dainty baskets of California roses with pink and white candles. Among those present were Mrs. Preston, Mrs. Fred Burghausen, Mrs. Ceymour Truman, Mrs. D. C. Norcross, Mrs. W. F. Withers, and Mrs. Mary Morris.

CLOSE ROSS VALLEY HOME.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bothin have closed their Ross Valley home and have gone to their place at Montecito for the remainder of the summer. They will take a prominent part in the season's gayeties in the southern resort, where the Frank Proctors, W. G. Henshaw, Mrs. Oscar Filskan Long, and other well-known Oakland people are entertaining a great deal this year.

RECEPTION AT DEL MONTE.

William Chase, the distinguished American, was guest of honor at an informal reception on Thursday afternoon, at which Miss Blanch, creator of the Del Monte are spending some time with Mrs. Baldwin's parents, the E. H. Kittredges, at the latter's country home, "Tres Encinas." It is situated near Los Gatos, and the Kittredges have had it for so many years that they have made of it an ideal summer place.

Mrs. Baldwin's home is on a large sugar plantation on one of the small islands near Hawaii. She was formerly Miss Harriet Kittredge, one of the most beautiful girls of the former Territory.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew McLimont and their little daughter, Miss Betty McLimont, are among those who have been motoring extensively this summer. They motored to Del Monte for the Fourth of July holidays, and their summer has been made bright with many week-end trips.

The McLimonts are now established in their new home in Crocker Highlands, and they are adding many prominent Oakland people to their list of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Clay were at Tahoe for the Fourth of July holidays, and Mrs. Clay has been spending most of the summer in the Sierras. Much has been said of the beauty of Mrs. Kohl, and of other prominent guests at Tahoe this season, but among the young matrons the palm for beauty must certainly go to Mrs. Philip Clay, who is besides one of the most interesting of the young matrons in smart sets around the bay.

Mrs. William Clift and Miss Jean Clift are very comfortably established in Santa Barbara, having taken a very lovely home there for the summer.

Mrs. Lee Cole Burnham who was their guest in Santa Barbara for some weeks has returned to her apartments at the Bellevue across the bay. Among others who will be Mrs. Clift's guests this summer are Judge and Mrs. Clift, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Lundborg, and Mr. and Mrs. Mailer Searles.

Santa Barbara is developing a very interesting summer social life, in which well known Californians take a prominent part. The winter season at Santa Barbara is given over mostly to the Eastern tourist, but in the summer time the residents in that picturesque city, and those who come only for the summer plan many delightful affairs. Miss Marguerite Doe, the bright young Southern heiress, gave a very attractive luncheon last week at the Montecito Country Club making her guest of honor Mrs. Frank Proctor of this city, who has taken a house for the summer in Santa Barbara.

Mrs. Wickham Havens went to one of the new lakes near Santa Barbara, and he says that wild rose ice is one of the rarest and most expensive ices one can obtain in New York. The ice is flavored with wild rose jelly which is made from petals of wild white roses in Bulgaria and made shorter excursions to the higher mountains. Another party which is enjoying delightful summer days motoring in the Sierras is made up of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Whitman, Mr. and Mrs. Templeton Crocker, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Martin. The Whitmans and Crockers are very devoted to each other, and they form on many occasions a most congenial family party.

Take Tahoe as a motif for a motor tour this summer grows steadily in popularity. Among the many well known people who have motored to the lake this month are: planning to spend but a few days before sailing for Europe. They will be abroad for at least six months, and will probably return only in time for the Christmas holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Orr, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Kinney, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Taylor with the Misses Bernice and Ruth Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Orlick, Dr. and Mrs. Murray Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Tyson, Miss Marie Louise Tyson, and Miss Frank Pierce.

Miss Frances Jolliffe has been spending a delightful summer abroad—she recently enjoyed a motor trip through Scotland with friends and she is now in Paris. She is planning to return home in August.

From London comes news of the musical success there of Signor and Madame de Grassi, the former Winifred Jane Douglas. Signor de Grassi is a well known violinist, whose success abroad has been very great. The de Grassis have been entertaining in their London home, Henry L. Perry of Oakland, whose splendid voice is developing in a wonderful fashion, under foreign training.

Mrs. W. S. Goodfellow and her family are established in their summer home in Ocean Road, Santa Cruz. Miss Edith Goodfellow, the charming young daughter of the household is entertaining some of her girl friends this summer, among them Miss Margaret Von Adelung, who is spending part of July at the Goodfellow home.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kelley returned home recently after an extended Eastern trip. While they were away they visited several of the big Philadelphia and New York. Mrs. Kelley was formerly Miss Charlotte Lally, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lally. Motor trips as a means of spending the vacation days have been in high favor this summer. Mr. and Mrs. William Hinckley Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Oxenard, and Colonel and Mrs. Wallace made up a party which recently returned from a most wonderful northern trip. It was perfectly planned, for the trip was made in their large touring cars, with a machine for the baggage and for the cook.

Their itinerary included a trip to Eureka, and from there to Klamath Bay, and on to Pelican Lodge, which the late E. H. Harriman developed as a shooting lodge, and which is a wonderfully picturesque country through the Yuba river country, past the wonderfully interesting old mining towns of pioneer days.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Chickering have enjoyed a delightful motor trip this year through the Sierras. They motored to Tahoe, and from there $200 REWARD!

For the Capture of the Mysterious

"GIRL WITH THE PINK MASK"

MISS "BONNIE BURR"

Pretty Bonnie Burr will arrive in Oakland Monday, and, after looking over the city, will appear in front of NEW CITY HALL promptly at 12:15 noon. She will appear in her famous high-speed automobile, without any disguise, affording all an opportunity of seeing her. After making her appearance and satisfying those present as to her real identity, Miss Bonnie will suddenly disappear. Promptly at the stroke of 5:00 o'clock Monday evening the reward of $200 in gold goes into effect and Bonnie Burr will appear on the corner of Twelfth and Broadway, between 5:00 and 6:00 o'clock, in one of her disguises which have baffled some of the most illustrious sleuths on the continent. She will mingle freely with the assemblage, giving all a chance to apprehend her.

RULES AND CONDITIONS OF CAPTURE

If you capture the mysterious Miss Bonnie Burr, THE TRIBUNE will pay $200 in gold if you have in your possession the very latest edition of THE TRIBUNE of the current day's issue, and use the following words of identification:

"Pardon Me, You Are the Mysterious Miss Bonnie Burr of The Oakland Tribune, the Fastest Growing Paper in California."

If you address Miss Bonnie Burr, using the exact words above given, and hold to her view the very latest edition of THE TRIBUNE of the current day's issue, she will at once admit her identity, take you to THE TRIBUNE office, where the above reward will be paid.

When you arrive at THE TRIBUNE office, you will be required to make an affidavit that you are now and have been a resident of Oakland, or any city, town or village on the east side of the bay, for the past six months, and that the capture was made by you without any collusion with any person. The reward will not be paid to any outsider, but only to a bona fide resident on the east side of the bay. This rule effectually prohibits any collusion and makes this contest of skill absolutely fair and above board. Boys under 18 years of age are also prohibited from securing the reward, and will not be recognized in the capture.

The same rule applies to any person directly or indirectly connected with THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE, or any member of his or her family.

Here is a chance for some person to display cleverness and at the same time secure $200 in gold.

Miss Bonnie Burr will not recognize anyone detaining her for any length of time, in order to obtain a copy of THE TRIBUNE, or anyone who in any way whatever stops her longer than a reasonable period, in order to repeat the salutation correctly. It must be distinctly understood that Miss Bonnie Burr will immediately admit her identity if correctly saluted. There will be no need of holding her at any time.

Remember: You must positively not lay a hand on the woman you approach and salute. To lay a hand on BONNIE BURR will mean the loss of your chance.

Miss Bonnie Burr will make certain appointments from day to day, inviting the public to effect her capture. When apprehended at any such appointments the reward as offered above will be paid, and in case more than one person claims priority of capture, the decision of Miss Bonnie Burr shall be final as to which one of the claimants first properly addressed her and complied with the conditions of this search.

Read the Above Conditions Very Carefully!

THIS IS YOUR LAST DAY TO GET ON THE REGISTER.

By the time the last edition of THE TRIBUNE of today reaches its subscribers there will be but a few hours left in which to register, although County Clerk Cook announces that the office will be kept open until 10 o'clock at night in order to accommodate all who may desire to get on the books during the day.

THE TRIBUNE urges all Republicans who have not registered to register. Political opponents are making strenuous effort to overcome the losses disclosed in the recent investigation, which disclosed that hundreds of Republicans had been wrongfully registered. Bulldozing tactics have been resorted to where pleading has proven vain.

As this paper has related many times, Alameda county, with a fair and square registration, is Republican by a substantial majority. But Republicans owe it to themselves and to their party to see that they are enrolled.

If you have registered and have not yet corrected your registration, see to it that you are correctly on the lists.

If you have not registered, improve the opportunity before 10 o'clock tonight. This is the last chance to get on the books for the August primaries. It is the duty of every Republican to register.

Friend William D. Richardson's editor pro tem. is boosting the candidacy of his chief for State Treasurer by printing editorials on a safe and sane Fourth of July.

George Wingfield, who two years ago declined an appointment to the United States Senate because he did not have time to attend to the duties, is now a candidate for the Nevada State Senate because he wants to keep carpet-baggers away from the legislature, and favors a law permitting Paris mutual betting on horse races.

Beauty may be only skin deep, but surface indications are often valuable.

TWO-WHEELED AUTO IS THE LATEST INVENTION.

It has come at last, the two-wheeled automobile, balanced by gyroscope. It is a machine of standard size, runs on two wheels, all same bicycle, and is the invention of a Russian. It is said to work perfectly and to have many advantages over its four wheeled predecessor. The motor that operates the car also operates the gyroscope that preserves the equilibrium, the energy consumed being one and one-fourth horse power. The gyroscope takes up little room and requires no manual control. It is claimed for this new machine that there is an absolute suppression of lateral shocks on the worst roads, accompanied by a notable diminution of fatigue for the passengers and for wear on the car and its parts. It is said that the durability of the motor is increased and that lighter materials may be used in construction of the car. It is said also that tractive effort will be diminished, consequently there is economy in energy and fuel and a saving in oil. That the machine runs over the narrowest roads and can scoot along a foot-path where a standard would be barred. That the gyroscopic stabilization enables the car to take horizontal curves at high speed.

The inventor has overlooked one claim and that is the cost of tires will be cut in two also, which is no inconsiderable item in itself.

It is said that trial trips have demonstrated all the allegations made in favor of this car and that it is a sure "comer."

As yet none of these cars have been seen this side the Atlantic, but if everything said is fact it will not be long ere the enterprising dealers will be boosting them. For the man who sells autos is ever on the alert for the novelties and the latest designs, so if this new machine has merit the time when it will be no uncommon sight is not far distant.

Announcement that the grape crop this year is a large one will no doubt contribute to the happiness of Secretary Bryan, who will see in the tidings an ample supply of "juice."

The straw vote often gives the straw man the lead.

Statistician Cremin of the Secretary of State's office estimates that 100 hours will be required to complete the count of the votes cast in the November election. Hurry and make your applications for places on the board. Continuous employment warranted for four full days.

WILL OPEN CANAL FOR TRAFFIC ON AUGUST 15.

Secretary of War Garrison announces that on August 15 the Panama Canal will be open to vessels of commerce, not drawing more than thirty feet of water. Of course this is not the official opening, which occurs in March, 1915, but the statement is of the highest importance, as it means that practically every ship that comes from the Atlantic coast and Gulf ports to Oakland and outer points on the bay will be able to negotiate the passage, and vice versa. Only a few of the greatest ocean liners will be unable to make the trip through the new waterway.

Steamship companies which have prepared to carry passengers and freight between Pacific and Atlantic Coast and Gulf ports by way of the canal will at once arrange their schedules, and in a short time the commerce by way of the great ditch will be enormous. This route cuts the distance by water between the Pacific and Atlantic Coasts of the United States one-half and will result in a tremendous saving in freight and passenger rates.

Coincident with the announcement of the Secretary of War comes a statement by the Panama-Pacific line, that commencing early in 1915 the splendid twin screw steamships "Finland" and "Kronland," each of 22,000 tons displacement, both flying the American flag, American built ships they are, too, will start on a regular schedule between New York and San Francisco Bay. The trip will be made in sixteen days, including a daylight trip through this great wonder of the world. The fare is a reasonable one when it is considered that meals, berths and all necessities for the voyage will be provided, together with a baggage allowance of 300 pounds, and that automobiles may be carried as baggage, the difference being in the excess weight. For the cabin de luxe a higher rate is charged as a matter of course, but first-class accommodations may be had for $175, while third class accommodations, equal to the transportation across the country in a tourist sleeper, are to be only $60.

This may sound like advertising, but as a matter of fact it is not; it is only a relation of fact. The other lines engaged in passenger trade will, as a matter of certainty, meet this rate, and in stating the condition noted this paper is but announcing the general condition.

While it is true that the man who is in a hurry will take the railroad, there will be thousands who prefer the restful sea voyage both ways, and as a result the prediction is made in all confidence that the passenger lines through the canal will do a good business from the day of the inauguration of their service.

These passenger lines will give an opportunity for many to see the wonders of the peninsula; to become acquainted with new lands and new scenes; to make an acquaintance with tropical conditions never before afforded. It is unnecessary to dwell upon the trade possibilities; those have already been discussed at length. But perhaps a repetition of the admonitions given by THE TRIBUNE are preparing to reap a rich harvest; the eastern factories are looking to the enlargement of their markets; the Producer of raw materials is expecting greater returns by reason of larger sales on this coast. Hence it is the duty of Californians, Oregonians and Washingtonians to prepare to send as many full cargoes eastward through the canal in ships owned here as are received from the other side. If this is not done, the customers will hold the balance of trade against us, and balance-of-trade against a section never increased the bank accounts to any extent.

WATCH FOR IT!

SHORTSIGHTEDNESS OF SECRETARY OF STATE.

During the three campaigns in which William J. Bryan, now Secretary of State, rambed up and down and across and back the States seeking for votes for himself as President, he was ever energetic—to all appearances—and almost vehement—as those who recall his speeches will remember—in his protestations that he desired the improvement of business conditions in the country. His first canvass against McKinley was made on the basis that the nation was lacking in circulating medium; that the money supply of the world was too limited with which to carry on commerce and trade; that for lack of money the mills were closed and the wheels idle, and as a panacea for the state of affairs prevailing he urged the opening of the mints to the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1.

In his second campaign he made imperialism his shibboleth, with money as a secondary consideration, but he still insisted that the industries and business of the country should be aided to the end that labor might thrive on the profit of its earnings and the legitimate capitalist enjoy the fruits of his farsightedness in properly conducted investments. His third campaign was also made on that feature as one of the issues.

But since being appointed Secretary of State Mr. Bryan has manifested a sort of apathy, perhaps antipathy is a better word, so far as the business interests of the country are concerned. His first attack was on the so-called "dollar diplomacy" of his predecessors—which, by the way, was hailed with delight by our neighbors in Latin America, as being a means of opening up trade between the countries—and he took a high moral stand against all efforts of bankers for government support of foreign loans, particularly with China, that was in the market for money.

Recently China let it be known to Mr. Bryan that it wanted to borrow $40,000,000 with which to meet outstanding obligations, and $30,000,000 with which to establish a Chinese bank. Under Secretary Hay or Secretary Knox the propositions as submitted would have gladdened the hearts of either, because they were made in such a manner as to indicate that China, desirous of being on friendly terms, would rather borrow the money here than elsewhere. But Mr. Bryan, with an indifference that is in marked contrast with his agility in collecting fees for lectures delivered on the Chatauqua circuits, paid no attention, and American bankers, recalling the action of Bryan and Wilson with respect to the six power loan of 1913, when the support of this government was abruptly withdrawn from their participation, held back and the chances are financiers of other nations will make this loan.

Mr. Bryan may decry "dollar diplomacy" all he pleases, but it is a fact that cannot be controverted that since he has abandoned it American prestige and influence in China have almost entirely disappeared. Another matter worthy of mention is this: THE ADMINISTRATION HAS BEEN IMPERVIOUS TO REPEATED STATEMENTS THAT UNLESS AMERICAN BANKERS WERE GIVEN AN OPPORTUNITY TO SHARE IN THE FINANCING OF CHINA, THAT COUNTRY WOULD BE PRACTICALLY CLOSED AS A MARKET FOR AMERICAN GOODS.

Mr. Bryan and Mr. Wilson made another mistake in the refusal to endorse the six power loan of 1913. China's loans contracted during the last two years for the construction of railroads were more than in all her previous history, and all the contracts with respect to these carried the clause that materials and equipment should be purchased with the money in the countries making the loans. There was a chance for an immediate return of the money work for the steel mills, for the locomotive works and the car factories, but Mr. Bryan evidently does not believe in fostering home industry at the expense of ideals.

Secretary Hay virtually abolished the "spheres of influence" in China held by England, Germany, Russia and Japan, by his insistence upon an "open door" policy. But since Mr. Bryan has taken the helm in the office of the Secretary of State these countries have Hence we have the spectacle of lost prestige in a country disposed to favor us, loss of trade, curtailment of industry, less work for mechanics, limited market for output, all because of the "ideals" of a theorist who is more of a Thespian than a statesman, more of a preacher than a practical man. It is conditions such as this that will aid in contributing to the defeat of the Democratic party in 1916.

The galled political jades appear to be doing a whole lot of wincing during these piping times of registration fraud exposures.

Twenty Years Ago Today

J. J. White, who has been appointed postmaster by President Cleveland, will assume control of the office tomorrow. Mr. White will appoint Mr. Martin, who has been a deputy in the county assessor's office, his first assistant. Mr. Martin is a nephew of J. C. Martin, the attorney.

Peter Jackson was in town visiting old friends and acquaintances. Asked what the prospects of a meeting between himself and Corbett were, he answered: "Indefinite. I propose to remain here until Corbett comes. My course then will depend upon circumstances. There is nothing new to be said on the subject."

Mayor Fardee had his day at the Tabernacle, where about 2000 people assembled, including a great many ladies. Among those present, besides the mayor, were Rev. Dr. Chapman, Major Sherman, Captain Hunt, Rev. Charles W. Woodie, Major Bromley, Prof. Inskip and Dr. Coyle. The object of the meeting, called together by the mayor, was for the purpose of allowing the citizens of Oakland to place themselves on the side of law and order. He contended that this city had got into bad odor abroad and was spoken of as one in which lawlessness and riot held sway.

Alec Robertson and Joe Layman returned last night from Highland Springs.

During the week Oakland will furnish a practical illustration of what the Democratic policy of tariff reform on a free trade basis is doing for the struggling manufacturing industries of the United States. It will be manifested in the closing down of the California Jute Mills in East Oakland. John Robertson, the superintendent of the mills, is getting everything ready to shut down the mills. The only work that is being done now is to clean up and protect the machinery so that it can remain idle with the minimum of damage. The closing of the mills throws about 600 out of employment, and throws into idleness a plant which represents an investment of $300,000.

Miss Delta E. Connolly, a cat fancier, of Roosevelt, Long Island, wants Thomas A. Edison, the famous inventor, to pay her $5000 because his agent took moving pictures of her and her cat, Dolph, her $2000 cat. She alleges, in an action filed last week, that the picture was at the Madison Square Garden show, and that she has been subjected to "anxiety of mind, annoyance, mortification and humiliation," because she was not ready and in a presentable condition to be photographed.

COUNSEL FOR THE RICH

W. H. Mallock finds an obstinate world going against him, flying in face of all his theories, pamphlets, and occasional letters to The Times. Mr. Mallock's position is that everything is for the best in this best of all possible worlds. He has no patience with sentimentalists who cry out about the unfair distribution of wealth. Mr. Mallock thinks there is nothing wrong with the distribution of wealth, and he opposes strongly present tendencies in taxation. Mr. Mallock, being a bold man, would fain cut away a large part of the foundation on which the labor and Socialist case is built. His point is that "the riches of the rich" are, in the first place, a very small part of the total income of the nation, and that in the second place they form a diminishing, rather than an increasing, portion of it; and that any sentiment arising from or any policy on a contrary conclusion are quite opinion and action in a totally wrong direction. So there! Mr. Mallock is going to stand for blood, and Socialists and labor men had best look out. The Pall Mall Gazette suggests that Mr. Mallock's affirmations might be examined by a government commission. "If these points were definitely established," remarks this journal, "it would have an important effect on the reception of Socialist propaganda." We would suggest that if it had been possible to establish that the distribution of wealth is fair and just it would have been done long ago. Will Mr. Mallock, plus a government commission, convince the agricultural laborers and the miners and the railwaymen and the quarrymen and the women workers that the debt and credit account between them and the landlords, royalty lords, shareholders is fair and square? Let them try. An inquiry that was almost honest and thorough would supply labor and Socialist teachers with their facts, figures, and arguments for years to come. Charles Booth began his monumental work on Life and Labor in London largely because he thought social facts were being grossly exaggerated by Socialists. Booth wrote a book which has ever since been quoted on Socialist platforms.—London Citizen.

The most changeable thing on earth is a woman. The next is another woman.
Even if a woman thinks her husband wise she doesn't consider one word sufficient.
Nothing but a large dose of practical

It's difficult to convince a small boy who is furnishing the motive power for a grindstone that turn about is fair play.
Many a young man who admires a girl who is a swell dresser looks like a mule when called upon to pay the freight after marrying her.
And many a timid man gives another credit for his own ideas because he isn't sure of their merits.
The man who manages to keep out of debt, out of jail and out of politics is a little above the average.
During the courtship a girl is often unable to explain her thoughts, but she makes up for lost time after marriage.
A friend in need seldom hesitates to tell you so.

CONGRESSMAN KNOWLAND STIRS THE ENTHUSIASM OF HUGE THROG IN SOUTH

Orange County Republicans Unanimously Endorse His Candidacy for United States Senator

LOS ANGELES, July 25.—The Republican League of Los Angeles county, embracing the Young Men's Republican Club and the Women's Republican League, held a rousing meeting in Eagles' hall last night, when Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Knowland were the principal speakers.

The great hall was crowded to the doors, many people being unable to gain admission. It was the largest audience assembled to hear any candidate during the present campaign. Mr. and Mrs. Knowland were given an enthusiastic reception.

Congressman Knowland delivered a splendid address and during the course of his remarks made the prediction that California will elect a Republican Governor and also a Republican United States Senator. At this point his speech was interrupted with great applause and vigorous hand-clapping. After the interruption was over, Knowland continued.

"But modesty forbids me from telling you that Senator will be."

HIS WORK DESCRIBED.

This was followed by another round of hearty applause. Congressman Knowland told of the work he had done in Congress in his endeavor to protect the citrus industry of Southern California and his aid to the Owens river aqueduct. His enthusiastic support of the Los Angeles harbor improvements, while a member of the House of Representatives, brought forth rounds of applause from his hearers, when described.

As there were a large number of women present Mrs. Knowland was called upon for an address and made an instantaneous hit. She told a number of anecdotes which interested and entertained her audience, and then she gave cogent reasons as to why she was on the platform speaking for the election of her husband as United States Senator. At the conclusion of Mrs. Knowland's speech Fred J. Spring, a prominent attorney of Los Angeles, arose in the audience and said:

PRAISE FOR BOTH.

"Ladies and Gentlemen—And they tell us a woman cannot make a political speech." Laughter and applause.

Congressman Knowland was the honored guest at the luncheon of the Rotary Club at the Alexandria hotel at noon yesterday. During the afternoon Knowland received a telegram from Santa Ana stating:

"You have received the unanimous endorsement of the Orange County Lincoln Republican Club at a meeting held at Santa Ana Thursday night. Congratulations and best wishes for your successful campaign."

LOSES LIFE IN BOLD TRAIN HOLDUP

Masked Bandits Board New York Limited; Obtain $20.25 and Flee.

NEW ORLEANS, July 25.—Twenty dollars and twenty-five cents was secured by two masked bandits, who last night shot and killed Tom Elgin, a flagman, in an attempt to hold up the New York Limited passenger train of the Louisville and Nashville railroad at Gentilly, a small station three miles east of here.

According to Conductor E. C. Potter, the bandits boarded the train at New Orleans. Shortly after passing Gentilly they pulled the bell-cord. The train slowed down and the conductor began an investigation. One of the robbers covered him with a revolver and then rifled his pockets, obtaining $16.75. A representative of a New Orleans transfer company was robbed of $3.50.

The porter approached while the bandits were at work. One of them shot at him, the bullet striking the flagman, who was just behind the porter. The highwaymen then jumped from the train.

A special train with officers and physicians was rushed to the scene, reports having reached here that the express and mail clerks were missing. Later reports from Bay St. Louis said that the clerks were found on the train at that place.

'LOVE PIRATE' IS DUE HERE TOMORROW

Hamilton, Alleged Bigamist, Is Soon to Arrive and Face "Wives."

Chief of Police Walter J. Petersen stated today that he expected Inspector John Dutton and his prisoner, Frederick Keats Hamilton, the "love pirate" and alleged swindler, tomorrow morning on the Owl from Los Angeles. Petersen refused to give out anything and let it be understood that he did not consider any other members of the police department qualified to impart information to the public in this important matter. It is understood that Petersen desires to "have it out with Hamilton" in the city prison before anybody else is given an opportunity to talk with him and before he is interviewed by an attorney.

Mrs. Bertha Conner Hamilton, whom Hamilton abandoned in Oakland to elope with Mrs. "Johnnie Mae" Dunbar, is in San Francisco, and spent yesterday and today obtaining certified copies of the records of her marriages with Hamilton in San Rafael. Mrs. Bertha Conner, who is also declared to have been wedded bigamously, being the third wife, according to the police, declares that she will not prosecute Hamilton for bigamy if he will tell her what he did with $1500 worth of her jewelry and if he will aid her in recovering the valuables.

ARTIST IN WOOLING.

"Beware of the dreamy-eyed man," remarked Mrs. Bertha Hamilton. "No one could have surpassed Hamilton in the artistry of wooling. He was not tempestuous nor garrulous. He was quiet, intense, polished, wonderfully attentive and pure minded."

"He took all my money and jewels and left me stranded in San Francisco with only 60 cents and my room rent not paid. And, yet, during the two months of his sojourn in San Diego and our three weeks' honeymoon in San Francisco, there never was a flaw in his demeanor nor a word in his conversation to furnish even a hint as to his true character. I am all through with him now. All I mourn is my lost jewelry."

HE "FOOLED HER," TOO.

So far Mrs. Bertha Hamilton is the only one of the quartet of "wives" of Hamilton to arrive to face him. Mrs. "Johnnie" Mae Dunbar Hamilton, the last of the four, who was married to Hamilton in Stockton on June 18, apparently has decided to stay at Sulphur, Okla., with her father, Dr. J. W. Mickel, and take no steps to prosecute. Like Mrs. Bertha Hamilton, she, too, confesses that she fooled her completely.

She says:

"I believed in him implicitly and knew nothing at all of the charges against him until he and I arrived at my father's home in Sulphur only to find an officer ready to arrest him. Even then I could hardly believe what I heard about his other wives."

Mrs. Grace Bailey Hamilton, the Rochester, N. Y., wife, who went to Los Angeles to investigate the record of her husband, is expected to come to Oakland.

OCTOGENARIAN IS GROOM AND THE BRIDE IS AGED 70

MRS. J. H. BRALY, FORMERLY MRS. MARY HOWARD GRIDLEY, THE 70-YEAR-OLD BRIDE OF THE 80-YEAR-OLD "FATHER OF SUFFRAGE."

"What's age to Cupid?" "What are years to Love?" Nothing, according to J. H. Braly, aged 81, and Mrs. Mary Howard Gridley, aged 70, both prominent socially in Pasadena and the bay cities. They've eloped, according to their friends, from the home of J. H. Braly, who owns a palatial home in Pasadena, left with his bride on the California Limited for the East, and it was not until word of the wedding came that their friends suspected the romance. Braly, it is understood, has decided his immense interests to his children, he, however, retaining an income of $5000 monthly. He is one of the pioneers of Los Angeles county, and a member of many of the prominent clubs of the south.

Braly is the man who some time ago chartered a special train on which he toured the state in the interest of suffrage. At the time he was known as the "father of suffrage."

Mrs. Gridley's first husband was the late General Richard H. Gridley, a well known military celebrity.

Two sons, Arthur and Harold Braly, and a daughter, Mrs. Herman Jones, all social leaders in Southern California.

The news came as a considerable surprise to the children of the bridegroom and the many friends of the couple in the south. The relatives of the couple gathered in Monterey this week to celebrate the event, and all seemed extremely well pleased with the romance Braly has known where.

TEN SHOTS ARE FIRED BY OFFICER

Burglar Captured Under Billiard Table; Bullet Holes in Clothes.

ATAMFETA, July 25.—Detective in Anderson's shoe store in Park street, at 3 o'clock this morning, Stanislaus Vrazeski, three times a convict, escaped immediate capture by leaving headlong through a glass panel door; heading for several blocks while patrolman shot at him 10 times and put 8 bullets through his clothes; finally hid under a billiard table, and surrendered without resistance when his captor came warily upon him.

He was unarmed when arrested. The police think he may have thrown a revolver away while running.

Vrazeski has served three terms in the state prisons, having been released from San Quentin after serving a sentence for burglary, on July 7. He still wore the prison clothes given to him on his discharge.

HAD NO ACCOMPLICE.

He worked without an accomplice last night. He entered the shoe store after 2 o'clock. Patrolman Andrew Peterson had observed at 2 o'clock that the shop was unlighted and barred. But at 3 o'clock the same policeman saw a telescope basket at the side door and a window ajar. He looked into the shop and saw Vrazeski.

Vrazeski also saw him. The policeman started inside, and the burglar ran. A locked door barred his egress. Unhesitatingly Vrazeski leaped, and was outside the store with splintered glass falling about him. By the time Peterson had reached the same spot, Vrazeski was on his way down Park street.

BULLETS THROUGH CLOTHING.

Peterson, pursued and began to shoot. He shot 10 times. At times, as he leaned forward his aim was good, several bullets perforating Vrazeski's coat as it flapped in the wind, and one shot hitting his trouser leg.

Vrazeski ran down Park street to Oak street, and thence to Encinal avenue. Here he entered an open front billiard hall by vaulting over the lattice and hid under a table. Peterson came up to him brandishing a revolver, and the burglar meekly donned handcuffs and went away.

At the police station Peterson curiously examined the bullet holes in Vrazeski's clothes.

"I wish one had gone through my head," was all the burglar said.

IS UP TO WARBURG 'SHUN' 'IN-LAWS'

President May Yet Withdraw His Nomination to Federal Reserve Board.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—Word still was awaited here today from Paul M. Warburg of New York, President Wilson's nominee for the Federal Reserve Board as to whether he would accept the invitation to appear before the Senate banking committee.

Upon his final decision in the matter was said to depend whether or not President Wilson would withdraw his nomination. Belief was held that unless Warburg within the next few days reconsiders his refusal to appear the President would withdraw the nomination and select another for the place. It was thought that the nomination could be confirmed if Warburg accepts the invitation.

Pending disposition of the Warburg case the President probably would not choose a successor to Thomas D. Jones of Chicago, whose nomination to the reserve board was withdrawn. Should Warburg be eliminated it would be necessary to select another banker, the law requiring that there shall be two bankers on the board and there is only one among the three nominees already confirmed.

Police Captain Ryan Resigns Under Fire

CHICAGO, July 25.—Michael Ryan, the police captain in charge of the districts which contained the old South Side levee, resigned from the force today. His resignation, which was made, he said, on the ground of ill-health, was accepted by Chief Gleason, who said that charges prepared against the captain now would not be filed.

HAND CRUSHED IN PRESS.

A Newman, a printer, of 351 Thirtieth street, was taken to the emergency hospital last night with a badly crushed hand. The man had been operating a printing press and in some manner got his hand into the press as it closed for an impression.

AMERICA'S TRIAL TRIP FAULTLESS

Flying Boat Covers 44 Miles With Light Load; Motors Perfect.

HAMMONDSPORT, N. Y., July 25.—Lieutenant Porte made a flight of approximately forty-four miles last night in the Rodman Wanamaker flying boat America. His principal object in making the flight was to observe the fuel consumption of the motors. Only a light load was carried and the third motor was not used during the flight. Lieutenant Porte said the machine worked perfectly and the work of the motors was faultless.

Early yesterday Glenn H. Curtiss and Lieutenant Porte made a flight of several miles with the America, carrying a load approximately equal to that required for the trans-Atlantic flight. This trial was interrupted by a slight accident. A strip of copper used to bind one of the propellers worked loose and tore a hole in the surface of the upper plane. The damage was not serious enough to have jeopardized the big flight had it been in progress, but the propellers were removed and supplied with more substantial sheathing.

Lieutenant Porte will not attempt to fly across the Atlantic until October 1. This decision was reached today as a result of a conference between Glenn H. Curtiss, Lieutenant Porte and Will Gash, the personal representative of Rodman Wanamaker.

Mr. Curtiss said that while it was possible to reassemble the machine and rush it to New York in time for the steamer sailing for Newfoundland August 1, it was advisable to take time to rebuild the machine properly and to make changes suggested by the experiments of the past month.

Seeks Extension of San Domingo Truce

SANTO DOMINGO, July 24 (delayed in transmission).—John Campbell White, American chargé d'affaires, is endeavoring to obtain a further extension of the truce between the government forces and the rebels. In the meantime the government has accepted an offer arranged by White to receive a delegation from all the rebel groups in order to discuss the propositions they have made. The government refuses, however, to treat with General Vidal, as it argues that he does not represent the revolution, but only a part of the south.

Portland Newspaper Changes Ownership

PORTLAND, Ore., July 25.—The Evening Telegram of Portland was bought today from the Oregonian Publishing Company by John E. and L. R. Wheeler and John F. Carroll, wealthy lumbermen of Portland. The newspaper was founded on April 16, 1887, and for the last eight years Mr. Carroll has been its manager. Under its new ownership the Telegram will be published as an independent in politics.

First Chicago Stock Exchange Head Dead

CHICAGO, July 25.—Charles Hennrich, first president of the Chicago Stock Exchange when it was established in 1883, resident consul for Belgium and consul-general for Turkey, died at his home here today. Yesterday he was on the floor of the exchange as usual.

CHURCH SUES ESTATE

NEW YORK, July 25.—Suit against the trustees of the late J. P. Morgan's estate was filed today by St. George's Episcopal Church of this city, of which Mr. Morgan was senior warden. The church seeks an accounting of the income on a trust fund of $500,000, bequeathed to it by Mr. Morgan and left to the care of the diocesan convention of New York. The convention was made co-defendant. The complaint alleges that of the $24,000 a year income has been paid.

$100,000 LIBEL SUIT.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25.—Targart Anton, a civil engineer with offices in the Foxcroft building, who resides in Berkeley, began suit today in the United States District Court against William Randolph Hearst for $100,000 damages for libel in connection with a Hatch Hatchy article.

TRAPPED TRYING TO FREE BROTHER

Mrs. J. Goetz Charged With Intimidating Witness in Statutory Case.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25.—The efforts of Mrs. Jane Goetz, sister of William Quine of 2932 Diamond street, charged with a statutory offense, resulted today in her own arrest on a serious accusation after she had walked into a trap prepared for her by the police.

Quine was taken into custody at the instance of Mrs. Emma Meyer of 518 McInnes avenue, who alleged that he had acted improperly toward her ward, Stella Kelly, 7 years old. He was charged with Section 238 of the Penal Code, and is in the city prison. Last night Mrs. Goetz visited Mrs. Meyer and informed her that unless she signed a statement declaring that her accusation against Quine was false, dire consequences would follow. Mrs. Goetz would have her driven from her home, she said, the woman told her, and Quine when he should be released would "fix" her.

Mrs. Meyer communicated with the police and was instructed to arrange a meeting today at Kearny and Clay streets, where she told Mrs. Goetz she would sign the document.

Mrs. Goetz appeared at the appointed hour and Detectives McDermott and Furman were in hiding. When the paper had been duly signed they sprang out upon Mrs. Goetz and took her into custody and charged violation of Section 238 of the Penal Code.

REGISTRATION TO EXCEED YEAR 1912

Indications Are That Primaries Closing Tonight Will Show Record Total.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25.—Registration for the California primaries closes at midnight tonight. Indications are that the final figures will show a grand total even larger than that recorded in 1912 for the last presidential election, which almost without exception draws out a larger vote than the congressional and state elections.

Interest this year has been intensified by the entry of the new Progressive party, with Governor Johnson, elected as a Republican seeking reelection this year at the head of the Progressive ticket.

Other Progressive candidates, including John E. Asherman, who is now president of the State Railroad Commission and seeks to be Lieutenant Governor, have also placed themselves by petition on the tickets of both the old-line parties—the Republican and Democratic. What the voters will make of this added freedom of choice is another subject of heated debate, for it is a situation made possible this year for the first time under the new primary law.

Still other factors in the result will be the many important initiative and referendum measures that will find places on the ballot, foremost among which are a proposed constitutional amendment that would put into effect almost immediately a drastic prohibition law prohibiting the manufacture, importation, sale or gift of liquor.

Last Conference on R. R. Mediation Today

CHICAGO, July 25.—The most important meeting of the series was set for today in the federal mediation waste dispute between the engineers and the Western railroads. Although no statement could be obtained from the mediators or any of the disputants, it became known yesterday that little or no progress had been made toward a settlement, and that a general strike of engineers on the ninety-eight railroads west of Chicago might take place at any time.

Rumors that the strike would be called Tuesday were denied by one of the engineers, who said "it has not progressed that far yet." Unofficially, however, it was said that today's would probably be the last of the meetings with the federal mediators. The engineers have promised to give two days' notice of a strike.

15-Year-Old Convict Gets Release Today

TRENTON, N. J., July 25.—Irvin Sutton, the "baby" of the New Jersey state prison here, is to be given his freedom today on a parole granted by the court of pardons. Sutton, who is only 15 years old, was received at the prison last October to serve from 1 to 12 years for having attacked a girl five years older. He has been a model prisoner, the officers say.

CARPENTER PASSES AWAY

Heart failure is believed to have caused the death of W. B. Roberts, an aged carpenter, whose body was found at his home, 2415 East Twelfth street, late last evening. Dr. J. H. Cullen had attended him during the evening, and informed the authorities that he was suffering from a weak heart. Roberts was 65 years of age. An inquest will be held.

ATTEMPT BOB DAYLIGHT THEFT

Three Robbers Hold Up Jewelry Store Proprietor, But Are Frightened Away.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25.—Three robbers attempted a bold daylight holdup at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon when they walked into the jewelry store of M. Lossman, 1352 Market street, and held him up with a revolver and attempted to rob the store. There was $10,000 worth of diamonds in the window and in the safe.

Lossman's bravery in reaching for his own gun, despite the menacing attitude of the bandits, not only saved him from being shot, but also saved the store. The police arrested August Morello, alleged to be one of the culprits.

Lossman was behind the counter when the first man entered and asked to see the watch. While Lossman was displaying it, a second customer appeared and the first man asked for another watch. As Lossman reached for it, a third man came in. Two of them looked like Mexicans and Lossman believed that they were a prohibitionist party.

Accordingly, one of the two drew a pistol, hit the jeweler on the head and his companions sprang behind the counter. He pulled the trigger, but the weapon failed to discharge. The robbers, however, did not seem to be frightened. They held the jeweler up and he shouted for help and fled. Although bleeding from two wounds from the face and head, the jeweler followed them into the street. A crowd took up the chase and in the postoffice at Seventh and Mission streets Morello was captured and taken to the police station.

Lossman's injuries were serious and he was treated at the central emergency hospital. Twice before burglars had ransacked his store. Once he pleaded that a robber arrested for ransacking his place be released on probation. On the night the man was let out his store was robbed again.

Texas Primary Will Decide Prohibition

DALLAS, July 25.—Whether statewide prohibition shall be voted on by Texas citizens in the summer of 1915, and whether the next governor shall be a prohibitionist, are the two questions which will be decided at the Democratic state primary election.

The primary was to nominate 18 candidates for Congress, candidates for the legislature and state and county officials from governor down. In all the important offices nomination today was equivalent to election. This was a "white" primary, negroes not being qualified.

The prohibitionists' candidate for governor, Thomas H. Ball, a Houston attorney, has announced for the strictest prohibition, but against all forms of prohibition except by state constitutional amendment.

The anti-prohibitionist candidate is James E. Ferguson, a banker and farmer of Temple, Texas, whose platform has been to enforce saloon laws, but not liquor agitation.

Leopold F. Victoria is a candidate for governor, running independently of the prohibitionists and "antis."

Texas voted on constitutional prohibition in 1911, the state remaining wet then about 6000 votes.

Sawmill Damaged $375,000 by Fire

KALAMIA, Wash., July 25.—Fire early today destroyed the big saw mill plant, lumber stock and wharf of the Columbia river front here. The loss was estimated at $375,000, of which $250,000 was covered by insurance. It is thought that the fire started from a hot box in the boiler room. When first discovered a large part of the mill was in flames. The mill crew and citizens responded to the alarm in the imperial valley to this city turned turtle on a steep grade eight miles east of Lakeside. All three occupants were crushed beneath the wreckage, Whitley being almost battered to a pulp.

CAMP STORMED BY CADET FORCE

Many Theoretical Casualties Result of League of Cross Attack.

Santa Barbara, July 25.—With heavy theoretical casualties, Camp Hanna was stormed and taken yesterday by an attacking force of the League of the Cross Cadets, consisting of Companies N, G, L and M, and commanded by Major John L. Whelan, Major H. J. Leonard in command of camps A, B and D, effecting this defense.

The losses of the attacking party were twelve killed and forty-two wounded, while the camp defenders counted fifteen killed and forty-seven wounded. The defenders were successful in beating back the attack.

Right wing, but with a second charge, Major Whelan's force drove the camp troops from their trenches and in a minute were victorious, according to the judges.

Camera man was in the thick of the battle, and caught some fine moving pictures of the charges and maneuvers. Yesterday afternoon the cadets gave a dress parade in front of the Arlington Hotel.

Last night the cadets gave an entertainment as a benefit for the fund to defray the expenses of the engagement. Today is the day of the regimental ball, when a nine captured by Colonel John L. Flynn and composed of members of his staff will meet a team headed by Captain Palomelli, regimental paymaster.

Stockton, July 25.—Declaring that he was maliciously and unjustly accused of refusing to perform his duty, Officer W. H. Dutcher has filed a motion asking for a new trial in a case decided three years ago by Judge Nicol of Sonoma, sitting for Judge Frank H. Smith, where judgment was given in favor of W. H. Spurrer, defendant. Dutcher is suing Spurrer for $200 damages and alleges that the defendant caused his arrest for violation of the traffic ordinance.

San Jose, July 25.—The Delavan comet, discovered last December, is now visible to the naked eye and is today morning, according to a statement today from Lick Observatory, where it has been regularly observed. The comet is traveling the constellation Auriga and rises well in advance of and to the north of the sun.

Redwood City, July 25.—The Burlingame Country Club petitioned the Superior Court yesterday to increase its bonded indebtedness from $40,000 to $150,000. The additional bonds will be used to purchase 250 acres of land from the Burlingame Land and Water Company, which is now being used for part of the golf links. The property now comprises the 100-acre tract known as the club exercises its option secured last year at the time the property was leased.

Hanford, July 25.—Samuel Trout, who was mysteriously poisoned and robbed while in the company of two strangers, and whose life the revolutionists were said to have spared, was yesterday arrested by a physician with a woman pump, yesterday failed to identify any of the quartet of suspects arrested by the police.

Stockton, July 25.—Wanted in Los Angeles on a charge of smuggling Chinese across the Mexican border and the United States, B. J. Oros was arrested by Detective Phillips of the Santa Fe Thursday night. United States Inspector C. T. O'Connell arrived here yesterday and after being taken to the Los Angeles State Commissioner Webster, the prisoner was taken to Los Angeles by the government official.

San Jose, July 25.—An inheritance tax of $19,296 was levied yesterday by Appraiser L. D. Bohmert on the estate of the late Ephraim Hatch, which was transferred in contemplation of death to his widow and two children, Horace M. Hatch and Mrs. Cora H. Johnson. The estate is valued at $100,000. The Hatch family is well known in this county and Stanislaus and Merced counties.

Stockton, July 25.—"Get the dead wagon, boys, I've got a fellow for you that I shot," said Albert Armstrong to two men who were standing in response to a call. The deputies found nobody. Armstrong told of how he had been awakened by a man at the window and fired. After waiting several minutes the man disappeared and Armstrong fired again. The third time Armstrong fired a shot-gun through the window, he said. Unable to find any shot in the case, the deputies doubted the story. Armstrong's bed, however, had been riddled with shot.

Sacramento, July 25.—The State Board of Control today approved a contract for the publication of the decisions of the Supreme and Appellate Courts of California. The present contract let in 1904 to the Bancroft-Whitney company of San Francisco is about to expire. It was one of the largest publishing contracts in the history of the state. If no bids for the work are received, the state will write the printer who goes ahead with the publication of the decisions.

Santa Cruz, July 25.—After endorsing a program of celebrations for California cities during 1915, and appointing district committees, the California Celebration Committee today held the following officers:

President, M. F. Tarpey, Fresno; first vice-president, Milton H. Esberg, San Francisco; second vice-president, F. J. Zeeland, Los Angeles; secretary, Douglas White, Los Angeles; executive committee, Dent H. Robert, San Francisco, E. T. Off, Pasadena, D. W. Carmichael, Sacramento, Joseph Brooks, San Jose, Harry Perkins, Watsonville. The next meeting will be held at Fresno.

Nevada City, July 25.—Forest Supervisor Bicklow firmly believes that the telephone is the best safeguard against timber fires and their rapid spreading, and, as necessary, he will make the forest network of telephone wires.

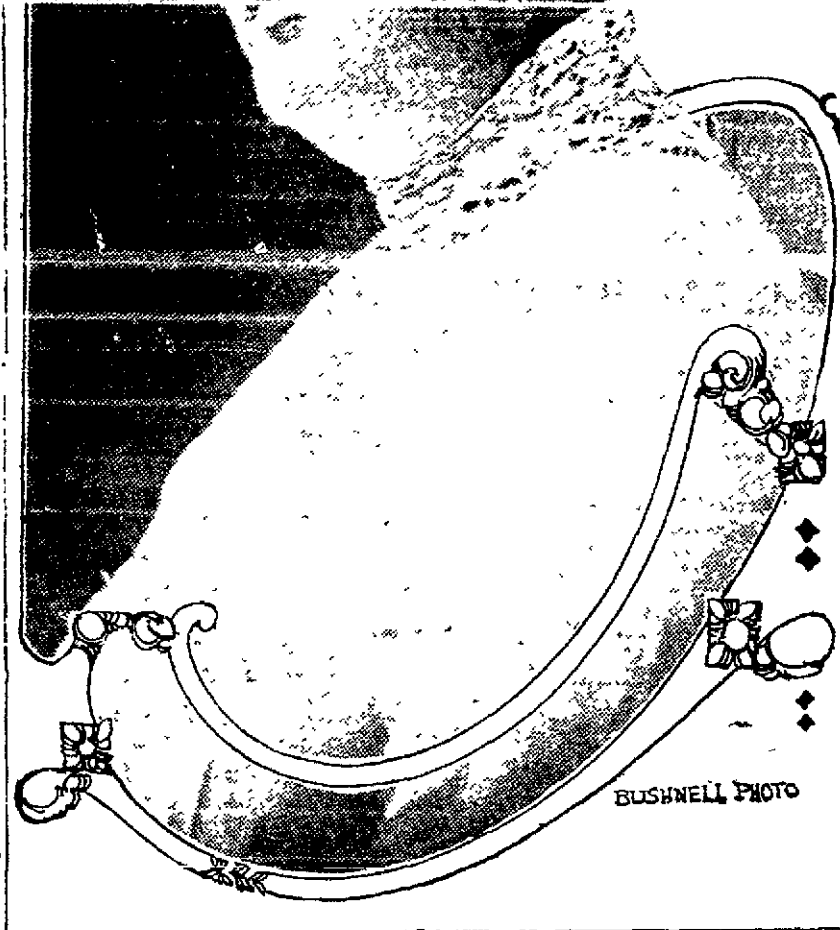

Santa Rosa, July 25.—The Sonoma County Development Association, in which is represented the various chambers of commerce, promotion bodies and individual organizations have gone on record against the state-wide prohibition amendment on the ground that it would be disastrous to the immense grape and wine interests of this county and state.

Smith San Francisco, July 25.—City Clerk William J. Smith, a candidate for Justice of the Peace of the first district, and a member of the state-wide prohibition amendment, narrowly escaped death yesterday when a south-bound United Railroad car struck their buggy.

900 CASES OF TYPHOID.
VIGO, Spain, July 25.—There have been 900 cases of typhoid and a number of deaths here due to impure water. The people of the city accuse the mayor of being responsible for the contamination of the water supply. The government has taken steps to relieve the situation.

DR. KIBBE TELLS CREED HAS TRAIT OF PIONEERS

DR. MINORA E. KIBBE, CANDIDATE FOR SUPERVISOR, WHO EXPLAINS HER PLATFORM.

The following announcement of Dr. Minora Kibbe's candidacy for Supervisor sent to THE TRIBUNE by her manager with the request that it be published.

Dr. Minora E. Kibbe is a candidate for the nomination of Supervisor of the Second supervisorial district, which extends from Thirteenth avenue to the eastern limits of Hayward and from the estuary to the county line in the hills.

The nomination of a woman for this office is an innovation, but one must accept the new ideas in western civilization or be left behind in the race.

Dr. Kibbe is the people's candidate, for the people are demanding a new deal. She is the women's candidate as well as the men's, because the women after repeated attendance at meetings of the Board of Supervisors see the necessity of having one of their number represent the district.

Dr. Kibbe has held many executive offices in women's clubs and in civic societies, she has initiated a number of movements to bring about better living conditions. While chairman of the civic department of the California Club she organized and helped to carry on the M. I. Improvement Association, which eventually reduced the infant mortality in San Francisco to an appreciable degree, and this with the friendship and co-operation of the milk dealers.

CIVIC CENTER CHIEF.
She has served as president of the Oakland Civic Center and is now chairman of important committees in most of the women's organizations of Oakland.

She stands for efficiency, economy, publicity and decency. Efficiency means the employment of the best men for the job, and the best men for the job should be selected on the basis of their qualifications and not on the basis of political favors or nepotism.

She stands for economy. Payrolls must be inspected and checked, bills must be paid to the lowest bidders and that bona fide.

She stands for publicity. She believes that officials are public servants and that they should keep the public informed on matters that come before the board and all sides should be considered before final action.

She stands for decency. She believes in the enforcement of laws. She believes with the recent grand jury that the whole policy toward the county infirmary should be reconstructed, that the inmates should have prompt, able and skilled assistance, clean sanitary surroundings and good wholesome food, privacy and every human comfort possible; and all this at a minimum cost to the taxpayers.

Dr. Kibbe believes that supervision should devote all day and every day to the interests of the taxpayers of the county; to supervising in person county institutions and to looking into the qualifications of employees, road-masters and contractors, and to seeing that one dollar's worth of efficiency is secured for every dollar of expense.

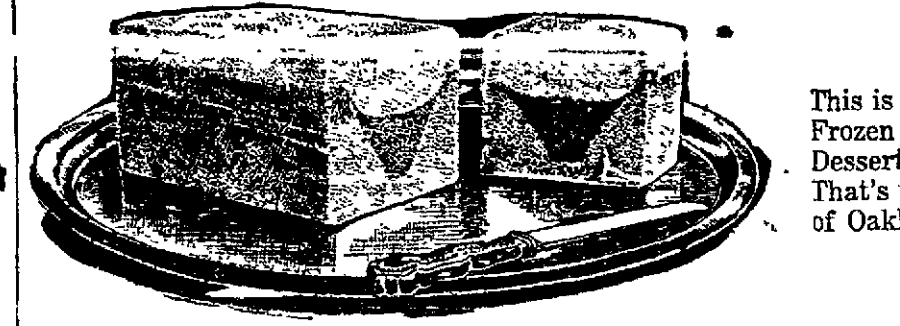

THE TRIBUNE operates the largest Job Printing Plant in Alameda County. Good work at reasonable figures. Phone Oakland 133.

KARLUK RESCUE PARTY DEPARTS

Revenue Cutter Bear Leaves Nome for Stefansson's Wrecked Explorers.

NOME, Alaska, July 25.—The United States revenue cutter Bear sailed for Point Barrow yesterday. After delivering the mail at Point Barrow she will proceed to Wrangell Island to take off the eighteen white men, three Eskimo men and one Eskimo woman from Stefansson's wrecked exploring ship Karluk, who have been on the island since March 10, their ship having been crushed by the ice two months earlier.

On the Bear are Captain Robert A. Earle, former master of the Karluk, who left the camp of the castaways last March and made his way to North Cape and across Siberia to Behring Sea with a dog team and an Eskimo companion. Mr. Shields, of the United States Bureau of Education; Rev. Mr. Hoare, a missionary, bound for Point Hope; Mr. Train, a moving picture man, and Mr. Hersey. The last two named have been with the Bear since she left Seattle and will accompany the ship to Wrangell Island.

Captain Cochran of the Bear took dogs from Nome and will pick up others in Siberia. He has sleds and every appliance needed for a dash over the ice if a landing on the island from boats cannot be effected.

UNCERTAIN ICE CONDITIONS.
Wrangell Island is 575 miles northwest of Nome in a straight line. Unless she encounters heavy ice, the Bear should reach Point Barrow in ten days. The length of time required for the voyage cannot be estimated because of uncertainty as to ice conditions. The ice in the Arctic this summer is reported unusually bad. Wrangell Island is always beset by ice. The Bear, which has for years made one cruise a year from Nome to Point Barrow and return, is accounted as good an ice boat as exists, always excepting Amundsen's Fram, which was specially built for Arctic exploration.

Friends of the persons marooned on Wrangell Island are not fearful of their safety. With the return of summer great numbers of wild birds should have already on the island, according to the explorers, with their teams of dogs, probably were able to travel about freely and to kill game.

So far as known, there is no intention of seeking to reunite the two wings of the Stefansson expedition, even if it were possible for the Bear to proceed to Point Barrow with the Karluk's men, who after reaching that place could proceed along the coast to the Mackenzie Delta, where Stefansson and his southern division are at work.

Stefansson, having been advised of the fate of his first division to which was allotted the task of finding the polar continent, is now free to direct the movements of his second division, which with the power boats Alaska and Mary Sachs, is charting the channels.

PERU "REVOLT" MADE ON SPOT TO ORDER

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25.—L. W. Pownall, freight clerk aboard the British steamer Colusa, arrived in this port yesterday with a serious view of South America revolutions.

He was in Lima when the British Chilean-born Guillermo Billinghurst was ousted from his place as president of Peru on February 2.

This is how Pownall told his story: "I had been working for a mining company. I was in Lima in February and saw nothing of coming trouble. "I met the president. He was part English and part Chilean, mostly English. He slept in the palace and I slept in a hotel directly across the street. Early on February 4 I was awakened. "I looked out of the window and the Spigotties were shooting around in careless fashion. My nose happened to be near and most of it was shot off. "From my window I looked out and saw Billinghurst being led forth. He looked up at me and waved his hand. He said: "I say, I jolly well believe that I'm going to be shot. "They led him away and then there began a terrific fusillade. In an alley I ran against Billinghurst. He gripped my wrist and said: "Benavides is president. Let's beat it. And we beat it. "I turned out that all Benavides had wanted was to scare Billinghurst into running away. The former president made his way to Balboa."

TO CELEBRATE SETTLING OF BIG FARM TRACT

KNIGHTS LANDING, Cal. July 25.—All is in readiness here for the big picnic and water carnival which will be held on August 1 to commemorate the passing of the great wheat ranches into the ownership of many settlers on the subdivision of R. S. Argarden Farms, the large project which lies along the west bank of the Sacramento river, north of here for thirty miles. The Chamber of Commerce has extended invitations to the other chambers in the adjacent towns and each of them has not only expressed their intentions of being represented, but stated that they will arrive in numbers. Marysville is planning to send a special train. The picnic will be held in Reed's Grove, on the Sacramento river.

The program will include aquatic sports and motor boat races, the usual contests at picnics and baseball games, together with dancing both afternoon and evening.

A steamboat has been chartered to bring an immense crowd from Sacramento and provision has been made to entertain thousands of persons from Yolo and adjoining counties. This town has long remained without any development, but the fast settling of Evergreen Farms is bringing about many improvements which the residents deem worthy of celebrating.

ELEVATORS BURN.

SIoux FALLS, S. D., July 24.—The malting plant and grain storage elevators of the Sioux Falls Brewing and Malt Company were destroyed by fire late last night, with a loss of $200,000. The loss was partly covered by insurance.

SERVANT WINS SUIT.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25.—Thillie Altman, former servant in the household of John J. Meyers, mining promoter, 3555 Washington, was given a judgment against him for $300 by a jury in Judge Griffin's court yesterday. Miss Altman sued for $5000, charging false and malicious arrest.
